

Abstract:

The invention relates to a process for the diagnosis of illnesses, pathologic states as well as physiological measurement units, which is based on the immobilization of recognition structures by means of a specific linker at specific functional polymer surfaces.

10014389 102201
102201 5851001